FULLER BULL'S WEEKLY LETTER TO FRIEND HOGAN.

Mr. Red Hogan,
Broadway, New York.
Dear Old Red:

Well, old sorrel top, we raised the roof last Sunday. Boy, we sure did. Casey came to bat, Red, and poked a winner in every inning till the knot-hole gazers went away filled up.

Yep, Casey of the 714 fame rented a train off the Ellen N of about 12 dozen coaches, ice water and all, they hunted about a thou. good stackin' jills from the Crescent City burg, throwed a real jazz tune makers bunch together of the go-git em variety and sailed over the 52 M. for this hamlet.

Bo, listen, them birds got here at 9:30 of the a. m., with heads up in the air and tails over the dash-board. A lot of us gins was down at the depo to give 'em the glad mit. Some of them asphalt babies what never come to the ozone before got offin the choo-choo and throwed their big business glims on the town givin' it a quick once-over. Well, all what met their wistful eye was the depot, about a million hick janes and old smileless. Well lad, we strung them Casseys out in line (no hands or the shoulder biz) and biked 'em towards the sad sea waves, where the St. Stan. College was patiently waiting and 'bout 14 hard working dames was cookin' the chow.

When that bunch got to the seat of knowledge it minded you of the A. E. F. polin' into Brest. Bo, them birds just took possession thereof, and started to eat he whole dern pie RIGHT NOW. When the fore-mentioned first visitors to the ozone throwed their glims on old man Neptune's splashin' pond—why bo, they turned all bolts loose and let old lady dignity tumble into the suds.

Them Jacks n' Jills herded them Jazz babies into that big auditorium (they call it that for the reason that that's where Commagere (the main squeeze) audits them athletes' accounts and in 1-2 minute the tangle-foot begins to develop—Boy, don't you know them birds jazzed all the way from 10 of the a. m., till it was time to turn on the current, and they hit up every step from he slow-drag to Argentine Ant Crush. Never heard of that, eh, Red? Well (that dance belongs to New 'Leens personally and every native son and sonofa gun has been trained to the step ever since cradle days. Y'see bo, 'bout a million years ago them Ants migrated to New 'Leens, and now theys as plentiful as foot-leggers in Biloxi. The law says you must stamp 'em out and it is in that shuffle that them guys and jills got so doggone educated that they beat the world.

Say, Red, Johnny Weg and old pal Wag was playing God father for the bunch. Say bo, take it from Fuller them some chaperons, oh boy, and say, would you believe it, wh'd I set my globes on but the Mighty Mullen, him and his rough house pal, yes siree, Red, them birds was all to the smile, would you believe that? Anyhow, we had se-ve-ri-ah by "special request" all blocked out a dog-gone mule in the vicinity and made a Bee-party outa the gang. Ask Johnny, he'll tell you.

This burg made a hit with them birds and I'm jerry to it that theys laid plans for the next excursionizn' annual to take place under the Marquis of Hoo-Boo-Loo rules in some early vicinity of the calendar, and 'bieve me, Red, boy, the next time theys have that kind o' matinee yours trulys goin' to hire a band of old Scotch men to entertain—you no how them old Scotch can do that, eh, bo? But, say, Red, I'm not a natural mud-slinger, but it was pretty tough on the brothers what owns the house of Bragis to have some folks go up in the dormitory and bust up a bed or 2. I'm actually believin' though that the bird what did it is goin' to be man enuf to come 'cross and make good—he wouldn't be a real Casey if he didn't, eh, Red?

We had a meet of the Irish last Fri. and just as soon as we get strung out on the main line we'll make full-blooded Micks out'n every hick in the county.

If you see Tom Lipton over on Broadway, tell him we're havin' a race for the Pelican cup next Sat. and Sun. what's goin' to pull the high stakes. If he don't come down I might scribe him a line on it.

Yours wing and wing,
FULLER BULL.

We have requested the Veterans Bureau to reconsider the cases of Clodius Hoda and Moses Heldon, in the matter of compensation.

Owing to the burial of my brother, Clement Bontemps, the office was closed for one week, and therefore, the report is not as complete as it should be. I wish to tender thanks to the Italian Society for the use of their colors for this funeral. Several times they have very kindly lent us their flag. Also thanks is extended to all ex-service men who officiated as pall-bearers, color bearers and guards at his and all funerals of ex-service men.

Respectfully submitted,
MARY COREDA GAGER.

Mrs. Mary C. Gager, the well-known and much beloved local secretary of the Knights of Columbus Information and Welfare Bureau for the service and ex-service men, is in receipt of an offer to represent the government and the American Red Cross in the "CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN" that is to be staged thru out the Southern Division of the American Red Cross, comprising Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, for the next two months, beginning September 1st, for the purpose of cleaning up all claims of ex-service men against the government for compensation, vocational training, medical attention, insurance, etc., resulting from disabilities and handicaps from service in the late war. The salary to be received is a very handsome one, with free hotel accommodations and transportation furnished by the government.

In an interview with Mrs. Gager by a representative of The Echo with reference to the acceptance of the proposed offer, Mrs. Gager says: "To connect myself with the work of the 'Clean-Up' squad of the government and Red Cross officials in their tour of the Southern Division, for the next two months is one that I can hardly resist, and it is with regret that I am compelled to decline acceptance of the offer. I cannot entertain no offers to leave this vicinity when cases of like nature require my attention. This work, assisting in charitable cases, and the help and advice to those of the men and women that participated in the world conflict has become my life work, and has my undivided attention continuously before the declaration of war; the signing of the peace treaty and to the present time. This tour, I am confident, will be interesting and worthy, however conditions are such that I cannot conscientiously neglect my home work. Claims of many of the Hancock County veterans are now pending and my efforts to effect adjustments in these cases is never tiring. I am grateful for the honor bestowed in recommending my services as invaluable in this work at the present time."

The following letter is self-explanatory, in which we print in part:

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 15, 1921.

Mrs. Mary C. Gager,
Bay Saint Louis, Miss.

My dear Mrs. Gager:

Your name has been handed me with the recommendation that you would be a valuable worker for the Red Cross in our participation in the "Clean-Up" Campaign now being conducted by the government.

A group of experts from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance Bureau is passing through each state of the Southern division for the purpose of cleaning up all unsettled government claims for ex-soldiers. On this CLEAN UP squad is a Red Cross representative. This representative is paid by our office, but is under the immediate direction of the squad manager. Her work is threefold: First, to be of general assistance on the squad; second, to help establish and sustain a good contact between the Clean-Up squad and the local chapter of the Red Cross; third, to keep this office informed of the actual work performed for the soldiers. Squads are already at work in some states. They will be started in other states by September 1st. The work is extremely interesting and provides an opportunity for rendering a real service to hundreds of ex-service persons. A business manager precedes the squad making business arrangements and hotel accommodations.

Are you willing to accept a position as Red Cross representative on the Louisiana squad? We can pay you $125.00 per month in addition to all your traveling expenses. Will you please let me have your reply by telegraph collect immediately upon receipt of this letter. This employment will be of temporary nature lasting two months.

Awaiting your decision, I am

Very sincerely yours,
B. CARTER TAYLOR,
Division Director.

Mrs. Gager is well-known in Bay St. Louis for her interest in charity and other welfare work, more especially during the period of war. She is very much deserving of the credit given the work and will be received with interest by her many friends and supporters that her efforts have attracted the attention of the various departments at Washington. Since the discontinuance of the local chapter of the Red Cross in Bay St. Louis soon after the signing of the armistice—due to lack of support—Mrs. Gager was then secretary of the chapter. Determined that such an obstacle should not confront her future efforts to keep up the work, which at that time was the beginning of real problems to solve in caring for the returning soldiers. She immediately reorganized the welfare bureau under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. Contributions assisted her in meeting obligations for the time being. Later, with encouragement that her work was meeting with success and to the satisfaction of those she so generously gave her services, kept the work in progress. She not only is rendering valuable help to the ex-service men in preparing claims for insurance, reinstatement of expired insurance, filing claims for families of fallen heroes, other work of a charitable nature is performed—many unfortunates of Bay St. Louis have been rendered aid through the activities of Mrs. Gager.

Funds for carrying on this work has been neglected to some extent. However, at times, incidental expenses have been met by Mrs. Gager. Her services are without cost. She receives no remuneration, and the people of Bay St. Louis should feel indebted to Mrs. Gager for the good she has accomplished in this capacity in Bay St. Louis and in Hancock County. Ex-service men praise her as their friend. The cases handled and in which her executive secretary has played an important role in bringing the attention of the various war departments to the needs of the world-war veterans, are too numerous to mention. The service of Mr. Albert Sylvester were secured while he was here on his vacation visiting his parents, and who is the manager of the Western Union at Ocean, Miss.

K. OF C. OUTING TO BAY ST. LOUIS SUNDAY GALA EVENT.

The usual Sunday crowd of visitors to our city was augmented last Sunday by the Knights of Columbus special train which brought nearly a thousand Knights and their ladies for an outing on the sea shore.

The outing was under the auspices of Council No. 714 of New Orleans, which, we understand has the largest membership in the South and increasing at an amazing rate.

The special arrived promptly at 9:30 A. M., and after getting into a berth on a side-track the vast crowd walked the short distance to the St. Stanislaus College, which the good Brothers of the Sacred Heart, had so generously and hospitably proffered the use of to the Knights and there the throng were bade feel perfectly at home. The great auditorium was turned over to the eager dancers, who, to the music of a splendid jazz band indulged to their hearts content in dancing all day.

The Sisters of St. Joseph offered to take care of the ladies, while the Rev. Father Grueh, pastor of the parish of Our Lady of the Gulf, promised to give the Knights the opportunity of hearing Mass. And many of the ladies of Bay St. Louis volunteered their services to assist Mrs. G. Y. Blake in preparing sufficient refreshments for the Knights that were without lunches.

Dinner was served by a committee of local ladies to those of the excursionists whom had not provided themselves with basket lunches—the proceeds of the luncheon as well as of the beverages went to the Church fund.

Shortly after the noon hour the sun was hidden behind the massive structure, shading the beautiful lawn in front of the college where hundreds took advantage of the delightful breeze that came in from the sea and opened their lunch boxes to a jolly good feast.

The great bathing pier was the goal of many happy swimmers who sported themselves for hours in the salty waves.

The weather seemed made for the festive occasion; Weak sun, cumulus clouds, strong East breeze and high tide.

Bay St. Louis made a decided hit with every one of the visitors who voiced their sentiments on all sides and declared they would not only return at the earliest opportunity, but would see to it that numerous stay-at-home brothers (and sisters) would be informed of what pleasures they missed.

In the afternoon a game of baseball was played in the College Park between the K. of C's and the Bay team, the latter winning by a score of 3 to 2—the attendance was a bit poor on account of the dancers who preferred to cling to the music and the merry bathers, who were loath to leave the sea—we presume, the latter felt they could see a base-ball game any time at home, but such a treat as the bathing afforded by the Bay was too much of a jolly novelty to pass up lightly.

Mr. McCarthy, a member of the day, before to make arrangements Council, had visited the Bay many for their accommodation.

There was nothing left undone that could have been added to the enjoyment on the part of the visitors. All committees worked cheerfully, realizing that it meant much for Bay St. Louis to have the visiting Knights with us and to leave pleased with their outing. And many of them did express themselves as well pleased—better pleased than they had been on any previous excursion. So well treated on their first trip to the Bay, left an impression that their next annual outing would also be here.

For Bay St. Louis this excursion was an advertisement which cannot be overestimated. It brought here many who had never before been in our seashore city, and many voiced a desire to live here or to send a boy or girl to the schools.

Bay St. Louis will always have her doors open to you, Sir Knights, and we trust that we will soon again have you as our guests.

The name of our recent Church Fair—the "Hoo-Boo-Lo" is now very well known by the "714" boys. We of Bay St. Louis are very glad indeed to have had them visit us, and we hope that, before long, they will all come back, and if possible, to stay. For we who live here know that there are very few spots on God's earth quite as pleasing as a permanent place of residence as is Bay St. Louis. An revoir.

The many friends of Mrs. G. Y. Blake will be pleased to learn that she is again at her duties as manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co. here, after an illness of several days. The services of Mr. Albert Sylvester were secured while he was here on his vacation visiting his parents, and who is the manager of the Western Union at Ocean, Miss.

MACCABEES CELEBRATE 11TH ANNIVERSARY LABOR DAY.

The Knights of the Maccabees Tent No. 67, of Bay St. Louis will celebrate their 11th anniversary, on Monday, (September 6th) with a grand parade and all day festival at the City Park and a ball at the W. O. W. Hall, Monday night.

Among the many attractions for the day's festivities will be clown antics, athletic events, cash prizes, bicycle races, sack races, mind reading demonstrations by the Great Mystics, featuring Miss Lucille Piper, and her father A. F. Piper, specializing Mr. "Jack" Bokenforth, the magician, the expert card manipulator as also "Buddha" the Wise One from the East India, the Girl with the Magic Wand—who defines the past, present and the future.

The Clown Band and stunts to be performed by "The Massicot Trio" of the B. P. O. E., of New Orleans, are: Mr. C. Carrigan, "The Extreme Equilibrist" and Mr. Bert Farley, the Clown with the Table and Chair. There will be plenty of good eats and fun for everybody—the old as well as the young—fun for the whole family.

This entertainment is for the future home of the local Maccabees, who are desirous of having their house warming on Christmas Day, to have installed athletic apparatus, natatorium or swimming pool, needle baths, all of which will develop the young generation into strong men and women. Days are to be set aside as ladies day, so when you contribute to this worthy cause you are assisting yourself and your future generation.

Let us have a rousing good time and end the day's festivities at the Grand Ball, Monday night, at the Woodmen of the World Hall at eight o'clock P. M., is the suggestion of The Echo.

W. H. Starr is chairman of the committee on arrangement and entertainment and A. F. Piper chairman of the amusement committee.

Music for the day will be furnished by the Maccabee Band and the Olympia Jazz Orchestra will render the music at the dance.

The route of the parade is as follows: From the Maccabee hall out Second street to Carroll avenue; thence to Front and out Front to Goodchildren street; thence to Hancock street; thence to City Park.

Everybody is invited to participate in the parade.

Miss Lottie Cheverlon was the house guest of Mrs. R. W. Webb during the past week.

LABOR DAY FESTIVITIES.
No expense is being spared by the local Maccabees in assuring success of their 11th anniversary celebration Monday at the City Park.

MISSISSIPPI SYRUP GROWERS TO MARKET 1921 CROP.

The producers of cane syrup in South Mississippi have completed an organization that has for its object the marketing of the 1921, and succeeding crops of cane syrup in a business-like manner and so as to, as nearly as possible, meet the demands of the trade. The organization includes all the counties that produce any great surplus of this product and will control approximately one hundred car loads of syrup this season in South Mississippi.

Hancock County, as a member of the state association, has completed its local organization and will market 75 per cent of the crop for this season. Orders have already been placed for three car loads of cans in which the crop will be packed.

It is generally conceded that the home-grown syrup in South Mississippi is a superior product that competes favorably with any similar product on the market. However, its sale has been restricted on account of lack of uniformity, the size and type of package used and the lack of any system of inspection or guarantee wherein the buyer could be protected against the purchase of an occasional poor quality package.

The new association has ample working capital, and proposes to stand back of every package, sold with their guarantee of quality, to pack their syrup in a uniform package that can be shipped with safety, place an attractive label on all syrup marketed, and render every service that the buyer has a right to expect.

GET TOGETHER.

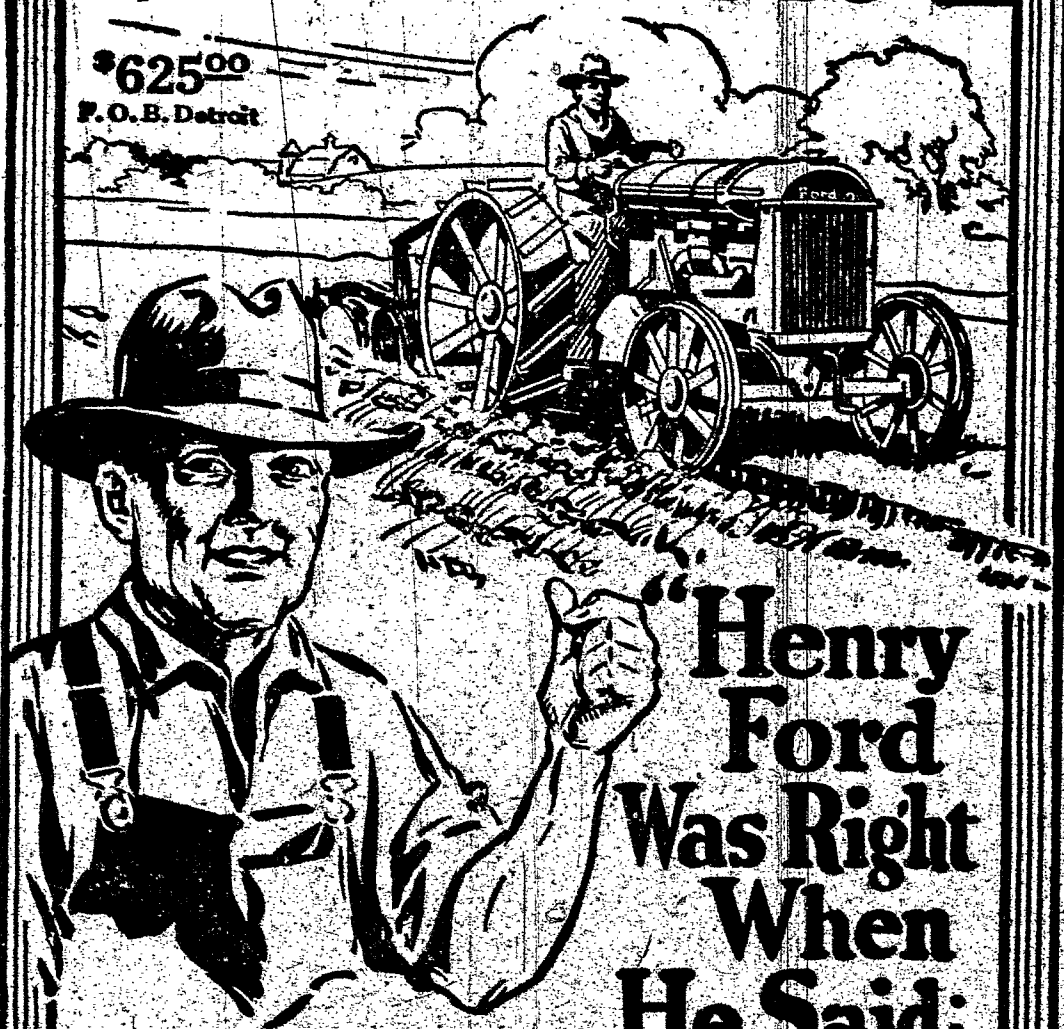

The citizens of our lovely town should get together and form an Association of Commerce or Booster Club and endeavor to secure the outings of the many organizations of large cities. Nothing boosts a town more than a crowd of excursionists who have enjoyed their day where all the citizens turn out to bid them welcome. These people go back with an enthusiasm which they pass on to their friends and the advertisement derived is vast and invaluable.

The Echo predicts that if Providence does not visit us with a disastrous storm this Fall, that our little city will have to build up to hold next season's throngs.

DARLING BABY BRIGHTENS HOME

Children's Laughter & Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nine months they all have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth. For this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her." Everybody says "that is a very healthy looking baby." You have my consent to show these few pictures to anybody. Mrs. C. W. Benz, 131 3rd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives. Millaton, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly." Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millaton, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial." Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

FEW EYES REALLY NORMAL.—Just as One Is Right or Left-Handed, So It Is With the Organs of Vision.

Very few people realize that they are as much right-eyed or left-eyed as they are right or left-handed. Sit down in a chair and fix your attention on some subject on the other side of the room. Quickly hold your finger up right in front of the object, and instantly shut your eyes. Then without moving your head or your finger, open your eyes one at a time. If, when you open your right eye, you find your finger directly in front of the object, you are right-eyed. In that case, you will find your finger very much to the right of the object when you open your left eye.

If you are right-handed, you will most probably find that you are right-eyed. This is due to the fact that the two halves of your brain are slightly more developed than the other. And the organs and limbs on that side of your body which is controlled by the more developed half are able to carry out your wishes more easily and quickly than those of the other side.

SUMMERY DISHES.

The delicate hearts of palm and bamboo sprouts make another addition to the list of the good things for the summer table. Either may be used in the various Chinese dishes and are especially delightful mixed with chicken in chicken salad or creamed chicken. A can will serve eight to ten people, or more if used with other foods.

Heart of Palm Salad.—Remove the palm from the can, cut in slices three-eighths of an inch thick. Arrange on head lettuce and pour over enough vinaigrette sauce to marinate well, then serve with it.

Sauce Vinaigrette.—Rub a bowl with the cut side of a clove of garlic, pressing firmly against the bowl to draw out the flavor. Add to the bowl one-quarter of a teaspoonful each of chopped chives, mustard and paprika; half a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, a teaspoonful of chili pepper, half a cupful of olive oil and a cupful and a half of vinegar. Stir well and it is ready to use. If desired, the dressing may be strained (any that is left) and stored in the ice chest to use later. It will keep a week or more in good condition with the vegetables left in it.

Heart of Palm—Main Dish.—Take small cubes of leftover roast of pork or chops, put into a frying pan with a little fat; stir until well browned; add a little water from time to time and simmer for an hour over slow heat. About twenty minutes before serving time add a cupful of finely diced celery and one of two good sized onions finely diced; cook until well softened about fifteen minutes; then add a cupful of sliced heart of palm or bamboo, a tablespoonful or more of fig sauce, paprika, salt and red pepper to taste. Serve hot with plain hot boiled rice. The rice may be heaped in the center of the platter with the meat poured around it.

Who is the wisest man—he who says the right thing at the right time? No, indeed—but he who leaves unsaid the wrong thing at the tempting moment.

SAVORY SUMMER DISHES.

Gather some fresh mushrooms in field or pasture; peel the caps and cut the stems into small pieces; cook in a little butter until thoroughly done; add cream or add to a rich cream sauce and serve as a vegetable in formal cases or on toast.

Beefsteak Smothered in Mushrooms.—Have the mushrooms carefully cleaned, with caps peeled, cut in bits and put into a pan with a tablespoonful of butter for each cupful of mushrooms, and bake 40 minutes. Broil steak until nearly done, then put into the pan with the mushrooms cover with same and cook a few moments. Serve with the mushrooms over the steak.

Veal Leaf.—Roll a pound of lean veal in water to cover. When done, remove the meat and simmer the stock until reduced to one-half cupful. To this add salt, celery salt, grated lemon peel, the juice of half a lemon, the chopped veal and a tablespoonful of chopped ham. Place in a mold and press under a weight. Turn out the next day and slice. Garnish with lemon and parsley.

A most delicious icing for a sponge cake or an angel food is one made with fresh raspberries. A cupful of strained raspberries, add a teaspoonful of lemon juice to deepen the color, then stir in confectioner's sugar to thicken.

Electricity and Chinese Demons.—Word has come from Shanghai that employees of the China Electric Company recently called in a native priest to drive away the demon in an electric-huzz saw which had cut off two of the operator's fingers. After the ceremony the workmen returned to their tasks contentedly. The manager of the plant felt that, despite the superstition displayed, these Chinese workmen were accepting electricity in their own way.—North American.

Improvement.—The rowing coach of Blank college had a very sharp tongue. A member of the crew, who had been "kicked" through a fog, said to him: "You ought to be a good rower, for you are so much better than the others."—The Boston Transcript.

Encouragement.—"If I should attempt to kiss you what would you do?" "I never meet an emergency until it rises." "But it should arise?" "To meet it face to face."—Boston Transcript.

Smashing.—"Yes, he's a baggage man now." "Doing a smashing business."

Grand Range Mount Rainier

Availanche Lily Slope, Rainier National Park

(Presented by The National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

As the famous Japanese mountain, Fuji, dominates its section of Japan, so the great white cone of Mount Rainier dominates the Pacific Northwest, a landmark and beauty spot for the populous cities of Puget Sound, and even on clear days from far away. It is the glacial mountain without a peer in the United States, and is estimated by one authority to radiate a greater volume and area of ice than any other one mountain in the world. Its area of glacial surface is estimated at 52,000 acres.

To the stranger in Puget sound, it appears to be less than ten miles away, but on further inquiry the tourist learns that it is more than forty miles distant in a direct line from sea-level at Puget Sound, from where mountain survey measurements are made and all Rainier park travel starts.

Studying it more in detail, he begins to comprehend its size and rugged anatomy. But the scene is beginning to change; the sun is low in the west; the lower end of the glaciers, white a few minutes ago, become a graded that of rose pink; the blue has changed to a purple, but the summit is still white, for it is 7,000 feet higher than the snow-line and projects up into the white rays of the setting sun. The red rays are slowly moving up the mountain; the last coloring of day, which it holds for some minutes after the sun has left the landscape, and then changes back again, finally from warm to the cold purple afterglow that generally precedes a summer night on Puget sound.

Its Cap a Weather Sign.—Viewing Mount Rainier after the weather has been fair for some days, it is common to see the summit covered with a cloud. This cap is very interesting and is always looked at for a forecast of a change of weather; especially when it forms immediately in contact with the summit, hugging down closely like an inverted saucer. When the cap forms suddenly, like the sudden drop of a barometer, the change of weather is not long coming. The cap does not always touch the mountain top, but is occasionally some distance above and holds its shape during a whole day or more.

From a far distance this cap appears to be a still cloud with no motion, but in studying it from close range one will observe that at the west edge the cap drifts rapidly, dissolving to invisible condition, the east edge, evidently it is a stationary point of condensation, but not a stationary accumulation of moisture.

The crater of Rainier, concerning which many questions are asked, is not dangerous, but rather a life-preserver, and has been so used during storm. There are no openings within the crater large enough to be dangerous. The whole circle of 1,600 feet diameter is filled with taller black lava and covered with a thick coat of snow, the snow being kept at the edges near the crater's rim. The main crater was the mountain's principal vent of eruption, but there is one other place called the little crater; it is a few other spots near the top are also warm.

The first parties to the summit always made the crater their inn, where they stayed at night, warmed by the steam that issues from the small fissures just within the crater's rim; but of late the plan has been to reach the summit from Camp of the Clouds (elevation 5,500), starting about 7 a. m., reaching the summit just after noon, and after some hours' rest, returning to camp the same evening.

Hot Steam of the Crater.—In making a trip to the mountain's summit, August, 1911, the writer took along a thermometer to ascertain the steam temperature, and found the steam of the main crater in places to be about 150 degrees F. There are other places where the heat is above boiling point.

The steam is evidently snow-water that seeps down and comes in contact with the internal heat, returning in vapor through the same general openings. It seems to contain no gas or fumes, and is of feeble force and little volume, soon disappearing in the high, dry atmosphere. It is not seen from a far distance and is not a factor in producing the cloud cap that forms on the summit previous to storm.

Electricity and Chinese Demons.—Word has come from Shanghai that employees of the China Electric Company recently called in a native priest to drive away the demon in an electric-huzz saw which had cut off two of the operator's fingers. After the ceremony the workmen returned to their tasks contentedly. COULD BEAT HANDS SHUCKING HIS CORN

At Least J. A. White Would Bet So, After Being Relieved of Dyspepsia by Tanlac.

"My wife and myself have had stomach trouble," says Mr. J. A. White, residing on the Leestown Pike, R. F. D. No. 6, near Lexington, Ky., "and have both been nervous and run down."

"We could not see anything without suffering afterwards and could not sleep at night. We were regular nervous dyspeptics. We tried many remedies without permanent benefit until we heard of Tanlac. I got this medicine and began using it. We noticed immediate results. We are both greatly improved by Tanlac. We give all credit for the change of health to Tanlac. It is a remarkable medicine."

"I personally feel so good that I told my hands a day or two ago that I could beat any of them shucking corn. I meant it and believe I could have beat 'em all."

Of all the maladies that afflict humanity chronic dyspepsia, such as Mr. and Mrs. White suffered from, is probably the most prevalent, and hours might be consumed in describing the suffering, mental and bodily, of the victims of chronic dyspepsia.

A morbid, unreal, whimsical and melancholy condition of the mind, aside from the nervous physical suffering, is the usual state of the average dyspeptic, and life seems scarcely worth living.

Tanlac, the celebrated medicine, was designed especially for overcoming this distressing condition and millions of people have taken it with the most astonishing and gratifying results. It seems to go straight to the spot, toning up and invigorating every organ of the body.

POISON TO KILL INSECT ENEMIES

Gardener Must Keep Up the Fight From Time of Sowing Until Harvest Time.

LIVE OVER WINTER IN SOIL

Principal Means Effective Against the Destructive Pests Are Applied as a Spray or as Bait in Form of Bran Mixtures.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Destructive insect pests give the gardener or farmer a fight from the time he puts his seed into the ground until the crops are ready for market. Left alone, they would devour every useful plant in the garden. The successful gardener is the one who studies the habits of these pests, learns the means of combating them, and keeps constantly at it.

The gardener who starts with clean soil has done much to keep out insects and diseases. Many diseases and insects live over winter in the soil, and one of the best ways to avoid trouble is to plant each vegetable in a different part of the garden every year. Some of the worst garden troubles are brought in on roots of plants; consequently, in buying plants of any kind one should be sure they are healthy and free from insects.

Use Some Kind of Poison.
In spite of the best precautions, insects will attack healthy plants. The principal measures effective against them are various kinds of poison, generally applied as a spray or as a poison bait, in the form of bran mixtures. The kind of poison to be used depends upon the insects' method of feeding. Some bite and chew the leaves and other parts of the plants, and these are best destroyed by arsenical green poison, such as Paris Green, arsenate of lead, and arsenate of lime. Of these, arsenate of lead is the best and safest for general use, and also adheres better to the foliage. Paris Green is likely to burn some plants, such as beans, seriously if not carefully applied, but on account of its long use can be obtained at every drug store and seed house.

Sucking insects, or those which puncture the skin of the leaf and feed upon its sap, are combated with contact poisons, sprayed or otherwise applied on the bugs, such as nicotine sulphate and kerosene emulsion. Where these are applied as a spray it is often desirable to mix them with Bordeaux mixture to prevent various fungous troubles.

The most destructive garden plant enemy, and one which made its appearance within the last half of the Nineteenth century, is the common Colorado potato beetle, known to farmers as the potato bug. This potato beetle passes the winter in the ground and emerges early in the spring, so that he is on hand when the first potato leaves begin to push through the ground.

Easily Destroyed by Poison.
An arsenical bait, applied dry, mixed with 10 to 20 parts clean dry flour or hydrated lime and dusted on, preferably when the dew is on, by means of guns or blowers, so as to cover the plants and leave as little as possible. The application must be repeated as often as new larvae hatch. A spray is generally preferred. It is prepared by mixing the arsenical with water or Bordeaux mixture at the rate of one pound of poison to 50 gallons of the liquid. A small quantity of quinine, in the mixture will prevent scorching the leaves.

Arsenate of lead is sold in either dry or paste form and should be mixed at the rate of one pound of paste or one-half pound dry powder to 15 or 20 gallons of water or Bordeaux mixture. Two or three sprayings will, ordinarily, suffice for the spring brood, and the same number should be applied for the second and third generations.

Both insecticides are deadly poisons and should be kept away from children. The spray will also prevent injury by the potato leaf-beetles.

Minerals Help Hops.
Feeding minerals does not increase the yield of the hops, but it does make them more dense and therefore stronger when they reach the market.

GIVE GUINEA CHICKS WELL-BALANCED FEED

Nothing Is Required for First Thirty-Six Hours.

Fowls Are Natural Rangers and Will Pick Up Seeds, Grasses, Insects and Green Vegetation to Supply Much of Living.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Guinea fowls are fed in much the same way as chickens, but they require less feed, as they are natural rangers and can be trusted to find enough seeds of weeds and grasses, buds, insects and green vegetation in the fields to supply much of their living. For the first 36 hours after hatching no feed is required, as the sustenance from the egg is sufficient to nourish them for this period. The first meal may consist of a little hard-boiled egg mixed with bread crumbs, or bread may be soaked in milk, squeezed partly dry, and fed in small bits. Clabbered milk also is very good, poultry specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture say.

Three times a day is as often as they need to be fed, one feed consisting of clabbered milk or the bread and egg or bread and milk mixture, and the other two of chick feed. If the coop is placed in a field or pasture where green feed is available, the guinea chicks can secure this for themselves; otherwise, sprouted oats, dandelion leaves, lettuce, or onion tops cut fine should be furnished. Water, grit, and fine oyster shell should be before them always.

By the end of the first week the young guinea fowls will be finding enough worms and insects to take the place of the egg or milk feed, so this may be eliminated, and chick feed given morning and night. If clabbered milk is available, however, it can be continued with excellent success, since guinea fowls are very fond of variety in their ration and it is conducive to quick growth. As the birds grow older whole wheat, oats, and cracked corn can be substituted gradually for the chick feed.

WAY TO PREVENT MILDEWING

Keep Leather in Well-Ventilated, Dry, Well-Lighted Place, Exposed to Sunlight.

Any leather article is almost certain to mildew if kept in a warm, damp, and dark place, such as a closet, cellar or stable. The mildewing process will not reduce seriously the serviceability of the article, unless it is allowed to remain on the leather too long. It may, however, change the color appreciably, thus lowering the appearance. The simplest way to prevent mildewing, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, is to keep the leather in a well-ventilated, dry, well-lighted place, preferably one exposed to the sunlight. Mildew can not make much headway in the sunshine. When mildew develops, it should be washed off with soap and warm water, or simply wiped off with a moist cloth, drying the leather well afterwards. These simple measures are preferable to the application of the home of preparation designed to prevent the growth of mildew.

POISON BAIT FOR CUTWORMS

White Arsenic, Arsenate of Lead or Paris Green Mixed With Bran Is Effective.

Cutworms appear in early spring and cut off the stems of young plants at the surface of the ground. They are quickly destroyed. The best remedy is poison bait. For a small garden mix two level tablespoons of white arsenic, arsenate of lead or Paris Green into five pounds of dry bran. Add from four to six quarts of water, in which a half pound of sugar has been mixed. After the mash is stirred several hours scatter it thickly over the garden or a small quantity at the base of the plants. Put the poison on late in the day, so it will be moist during the night when the cutworms feed.

VALUE OF SILAGE

One ton of silage is equal to about 225 pounds of corn and 615 pounds of clover hay for dairy cows.

One ton of silage is equal to 144 pounds of corn and 890 pounds of clover hay for fattening lambs.

These figures are calculated from Wisconsin experiments.

Potatoes Grow Better in Warm Soil.
Farmers need to know that potatoes grow better in warm soil than in cold soil. The best time to plant is when the soil is warm and the weather is clear.

DAIRY FACTS

DISPOSING OF MILK SURPLUS

Conditions Likely to Exist in Well-Developed Dairy Districts During Summer.

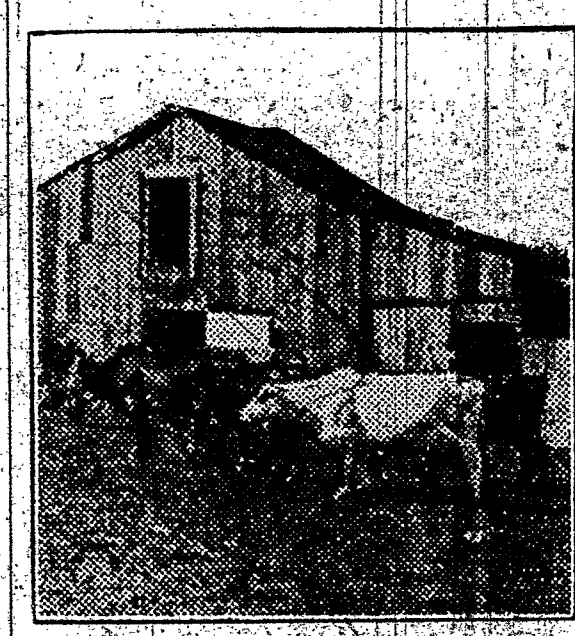

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
For the first time since the beginning of the World War there is developing in this country a surplus of milk, according to reports recently received by the United States Department of Agriculture. Specialists of the department state that this condition probably will be only temporary during the "flush" of the season, and that it is most apparent in well-developed dairy districts. It may continue during the summer months, but is expected to adjust itself by fall, when demand will overtake the surplus of supply. The situation is largely due to the falling off in the demand for milk in the manufacture of condensed products, milk powders, casein, and similar products, for which there was a large export outlet.

The department points out the advisability of using as much milk as possible, in fluid form and otherwise, as a human food. Within the last generation an increased knowledge of the value of milk in the diet has resulted in an almost doubled per capita consumption of milk, and farmers who purchase milk freely thereby encourage production. This is believed to be the best safeguard against a milk shortage and high prices resulting from the withdrawal of dairymen from the business during periods of large production and low farm prices for milk.

But when the limit of human utilization is reached dairy producers necessarily must decide how to dispose of the remainder. In many cases this will be a decision between selling whole milk, selling cream, or even to use a moderate quantity of whole milk for feeding, especially to young animals. In any event, a more liberal use of milk on farms should reduce the surplus, even though not solving the problem entirely.

As a guide to persons desiring to utilize surplus milk as live stock feed, the department makes the following recommendations, which may be supplemented with literature issued by the department.

Milk from a dairy herd which is not definitely known to be free from tuberculosis should be scalded before being fed. An ordinary feed cooker is a practical means for scalding milk. This process is approximately equivalent to pasteurization, which most large cities require as a safeguard to public health. Metal pails that can be kept clean by washing and scalding are preferable to wooden containers or others that are difficult to clean.

Typical Dairy Herd in Some Sections.

When the milk is fed to young calves, it should be fed in a clean, well-ventilated place, and the milk should be changed frequently. The milk should be fed in a clean, well-ventilated place, and the milk should be changed frequently. The milk should be fed in a clean, well-ventilated place, and the milk should be changed frequently.

For pigs three weeks old or more, three parts of skim milk mixed with one part of shorts, is useful in keeping them growing. Skim milk may be fed with corn and other hog feeds in various practical combinations.

In poultry feeding both skim milk and buttermilk are excellent feeds, and can now also be purchased as a nonperishable commercial feed, which is sold in large barrels as semisolid buttermilk. Skim milk and buttermilk may be fed alone or mixed with other feeds, but feeders should avoid giving too much milk, or bowel trouble may result. This is caused principally by fowls eating spoiled clabbered milk remaining from a previous feeding.

While to live stock owners unaccustomed to the use of milk as a stock feed it may appear somewhat expensive, there are advantages which milk feeders quickly recognize. In addition to utilizing the surplus milk that would otherwise be wasted, young stock generally make a very rapid growth. This means early maturity and early usefulness, compared with stock that have developed more slowly. At least as a temporary measure there is a real opportunity to improve farm type stock, in addition to relieving a milk surplus, by using skim milk liberally in proper combination with other feeds.

FUNDS FOR BUILDING ROADS

Sum of $22,000,000 Available for Highway and Bridge Construction and Maintenance.

(Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.)
Approximately $22,000,000 is now known to be available for road and bridge construction and maintenance during the year 1921, according to information sent to the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture, by the several state highway departments. Should pending legislation be passed by congress and additional appropriations be made for federal aid, this sum would be increased by the amount of the federal appropriation.

DIRT HIGHWAYS ARE EASIEST

Unpaved Country Roads Cause Least Wear on Tires, While Slag Is Most Destructive.

The much maligned dirt road finds a champion in a Denversite manufacturer, who asserts that exhaustive tests show that the unpaved country road causes the least tire wear. But the road must be in good condition, with no cuts or tears against the side walls of the tire. When properly graded, the unpaved country road is found to generate less heat in the tire than any other type of road.

Slag roads were found to be most destructive to tires, the sharp points soon pitting the tread with its holes. With the test car's wheels a fraction of an inch out of alignment, the tires looked as if they had been shredded after only a few hours' travel.

Asphalt pavement was found to develop much heat, but little external wear. Macadam roads in good condition were found to be better than slag.

ADVANTAGES OF GOOD ROADS

Means Release to Farmer and City Man From Bondage of Railroad Discomforts.

To both city man and farmer, the good road means release from bondage to electric, steam or gasoline, and discomforts of long distance—bondage to time. Counties and states where good roads have become a steady part of a progressive program of legislation have seen values shoot up in most surprising fashion, and this again has brought home the fact that good roads pay for themselves.

GUINNEL HORROR TOLD BY DODSON

You Don't Need to Sicken, Gripe or Salivate Yourself to Start Liver.

Your bilious, sluggish, constipated, you feel headachy, your stomach may be sour, your breath bad, your skin sallow and you believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start liver and bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tonic tonight and wake up feeling splendid. It is perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

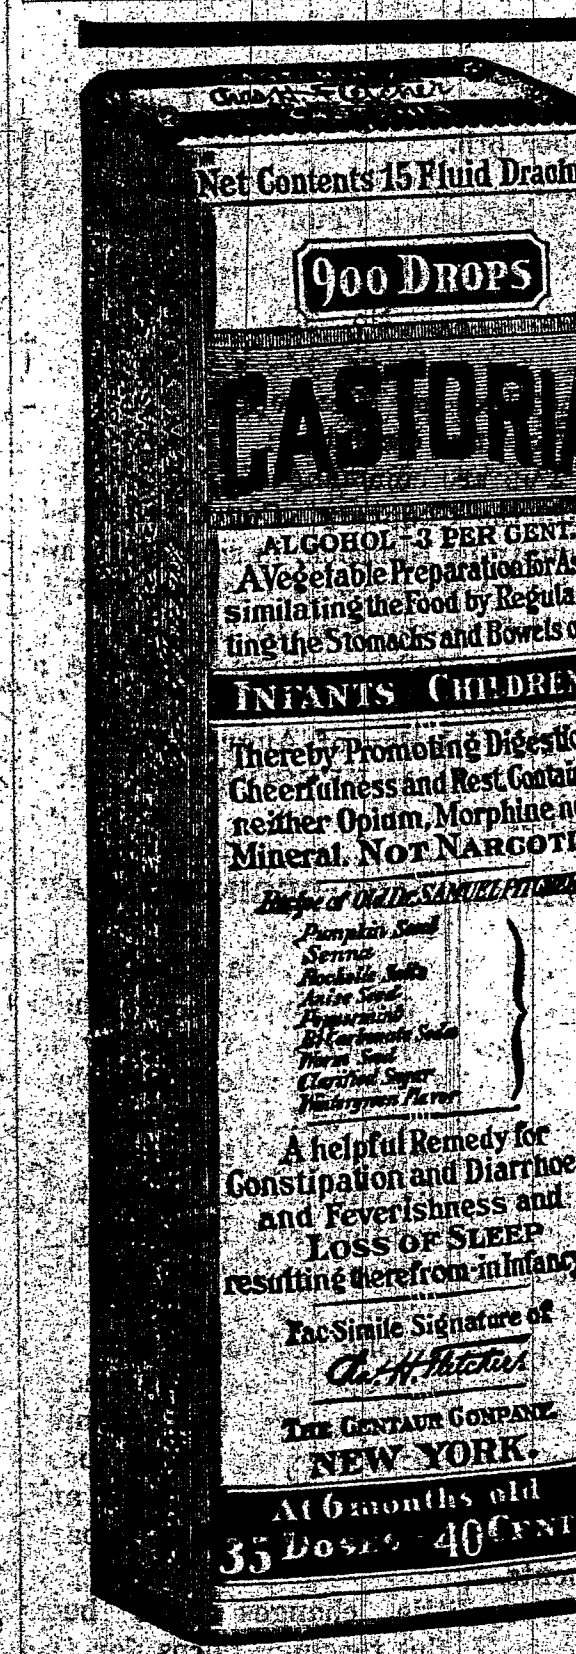

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the following statement: "One reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease."

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., P.O. Box 108, New York, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

And using their feet more than ever before. For all these workers the frequent use of Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic, healing powder to be shaken into the shoes and sprinkled in the foot-bath, increases their efficiency and insured needed physical comfort. Allen's Foot-Ease takes the friction from the shoe, keeps the shoe from rubbing and the stockings from wearing, freshens the feet, and prevents chafing, chapping and blistered feet. Women everywhere are constant users of Allen's Foot-Ease. Don't get foot sore, get Allen's Foot-Ease. More than One Million five hundred thousand pounds of Powder for Feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war. Sold everywhere.

Special Care of Baby.
That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your baby child anything but a medicine especially prepared for infants and children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this: It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

CITY ECHOES.

Bay St. Louis City Schools will re-open for the 1921-22 session Monday.

Regular monthly meeting of the Board of Supervisors for Hancock County will convene Monday morning.

Both banks of the city will be closed Monday—Labor Day. Post Office will be open during the morning hours only.

Mr. E. J. Lawrence and family, residing corner Carroll avenue and Second streets, will make their home in future at Gulfport, the location more central for Mr. Lawrence's business.

Mr. T. J. Buddecke, managing editor "Society Talk and Side-Lights of Stage," a New Orleans publication is spending today with Bay St. Louis, friends, and was a welcome caller at The Echo office.

Fall term Circuit Court for Hancock County will convene in Bay St. Louis on Monday next. The docket carries considerable business and the term will continue indefinitely.

Next week will be "Paramount Week" over the country. The A. & G. Theatre will show a Paramount picture every night next week. In other words, every night next week will be a feature event.

Harold Tudury has returned home from Washington, D. C., after two years' service in the army, receiving an honorable discharge. He is at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tudury, and is gladly welcomed home by his many, good young friends. He visited relatives at Biloxi yesterday.

The weather man has favored Bay St. Louis and Waveland for their joint regatta today. The day is ideal and there are many entries for the race this afternoon. Many out-of-town guests are here for the occasion and many more will arrive for the ball tonight. This promises to be one of the more prominent social events of the summer season now practically at an end.

Patrons and prospective patrons of the St. Stanislaus College will be interested in the advertisement appearing in this issue of The Echo concerning the opening dates for 1921-22 session. The school will open September 8th for boarding students and September 9th for day scholars.

Rev. W. G. Forsythe, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, was a visitor to Gulfport yesterday, where he is well-known and has many friends.

It is a great pity so many of our visitors will leave between now and the fifteenth of the month, when this time of the year is so delightful. In fact it is preferred by many residents to other times of the year.

Mr. John Osoinach returned home a few days since from his visit to Memphis, Tenn., where he visited at the respective homes of his sons, Messrs. A. J. and H. W. Osoinach. While in Memphis Mr. Osoinach met many of the prominent business and professional men and viewed the many places of interest in the city and vicinity, in all resulting in a visit of much interest and pleasure.

"EAST LYNNE" the world-famed classic which has been read by millions of people will be the stellar attraction of the week on the program of the Victory Airdrome for Tuesday, the 6th. This is your chance to see the modernized picture of this powerful classic which has been secured for Bay St. Louis theatre goes at great expense.

No invitations were extended to Regatta Ball tonight. All invited.

It is well to stimulate the building and BETTER homes. The demand exceeds the supply. There is a constant and growing need. This supplied would bring many more families who are compelled to go elsewhere.

The attractive dwelling in Union near Second street, recently purchased by Frank Hymel (for his own occupancy) from G. Y. Blaize, has undergone a thorough renovation, with added improvements. A. B. Day, contractor, and is now one of the better homes of our city for which Bay St. Louis is fast getting famous. Contractor Day also has completed a similar work for Alcide Ladner, whose dwelling is in Keller avenue. It is noted that quite a number of dwellings over the city have undergone similar improvement, all of which contributes to a greater and better "Bay St. Louis the Beautiful."

PREPARATIONS FOR HANCOCK COUNTY FAIR.

The officials of the Hancock County Association are getting everything in readiness for the biggest fair in the history of Hancock County on October 6th and 7th.

Crops, as a whole, are good, and the people interested and money for the premiums to be awarded is now deposited in the bank, should assure success.

Space has already been reserved for Hancock County's exhibits at the State Fair at Jackson.

It will be recalled that Hancock County made her first exhibit at the State Fair last year, and succeeded in carrying off third honors in this contest, as well as a number of individual prizes, including first prize on cotton.

Officials of the association say they are going after first place this year and they see no reason why they should not bring back this much coveted ribbon.

The County Fair belongs to each and every resident of the county. It will require the combined efforts of all if the fair is the success that is anticipated, and the fair officials feel confident that they can rely on all to join harmoniously to make the fair this fall a successful one.

The association has arranged the premium list and should be attractive to the exhibitor.

Some of the departments and the superintendents in charge are given below, with the amount of premium offered on each department listed:

School Department—T. E. Kellar, Superintendent; premiums offered, $114.50.

Agricultural Department—John S. Rester, superintendent, premiums offered, $250.00.

Cattle Department—F. X. Quintini superintendent; premiums offered, $39.00.

Swine—A. A. Kergosien, superintendent, prizes offered, $22.50.

Horses—W. G. Thigpen, superintendent, prizes offered, $30.00.

Poultry—B. W. Stout, superintendent, prizes offered, $30.00.

Corn Club—S. F. O'Neal, superintendent, prizes offered, $50.00.

Pig Club—S. F. O'Neal, superintendent, prizes offered, $100.00.

Culinary—Mrs. F. B. Pittman, superintendent, prizes offered, $45.

The communities that have arranged to have community fairs with the dates of same are as follows:

Sellers and Dedaux, October 3.
Kiln and Caesar, October 3.
Leetown and Flat Top, October 4.
Kiln Camps and Aaron Academy, October 4.

Logtown and Waveland, October 5th.
Gulfview and Bay St. Louis, October 5th.

By authority of the Hancock County Fair Ass'n.

CHANCERY SUMMONS.

No. 2359.
To Tom McMillon:

You are commanded to appear before the Chancery Court of the County of Hancock, in said State, on the 4th Monday of October, 1921, to defend the suit in said court of Rose McMillon, wherein you are a defendant.

This 5th day of August, 1921.

SCHOOL DAYS BEGIN MONDAY.

Bay St. Louis public schools will be opened for their 1921-22 school term Monday morning with every indication of a larger attendance than heretofore, and will take away from other duties and play, hundreds of children who will resume their studies for education and training previous to beginning life in the business world.

All the public schools, four in number have completed the necessary preparations for the opening and the teaching corps have been selected for the various grades and assigned to their respective departments.

Very little changes have been made in the teaching corps for the coming session. A recent meeting of the school board recommended that the R. W. Webb school be changed from the fifth grade to the sixth thereby adding to this school an additional teacher, in the selection, Miss Mae Colson's services were secured.

ORDINANCE NO. 85.

An ordinance providing for the inspection of milk cows, milk and dairies, making the inspection compulsory, creating the office of milk and cattle inspector and making it a misdemeanor for a violation of the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of St. Louis that all persons, selling, giving away, or exchanging milk shall have their milk cows inspected by the City Inspector once each year to ascertain if the cow has the disease known as Tuberculosis or any other infectious or contagious diseases.

SECTION 2. That no person shall sell, give away or exchange for use, from any cow, without first having a certificate, showing that such cow or cows have been tested or inspected by the City Inspector and the said cow or cows are free from Tuberculosis and all other infectious or contagious diseases.

SECTION 3. That all persons selling milk shall have their places where milking is done or the milk cows are kept, in a clean and sanitary condition and no person shall sell, give away, or exchange milk to anyone, for consumption without first obtaining a certificate from the City Inspector, that their place and grounds and building or dairy, where the milking is done, or the cow or cows are kept, is in a clean and sanitary condition.

SECTION 4. All cows inspected shall be appropriately marked or branded by the City Inspector.

SECTION 5. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, give away, or exchange milk taken from a cow infected with tuberculosis or any other infectious or contagious disease.

SECTION 6. Persons owning a milk cow or cows shall pay the City Inspector two dollars for each milk cow inspected.

SECTION 7. The Mayor shall appoint a City Milk and Cattle Inspector and his appointment shall be ratified by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen. The term of office of City Inspector shall be one year.

SECTION 8. All persons violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars, or sentenced to serve not more than thirty days in jail, or both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 9. That this ordinance take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and each person shall be notified and given notice.

Approved in open Board this 6th day of August, 1921.

The best lesson a boy or man can learn is to BANK HIS MONEY.

Bank a part of your earnings, REGULARLY and you will get ahead.

Spend all you make and you will always be "broke."
